

READY TO COOK, WASH AND SCRUB FOR HIS SARAH

Ostias Wants Her So Badly He'll Take Her Back on Her Own Terms.

HER THIRD TIME AWAY

Fetches Her Once With Watch, Then With Earrings,
But Now Money's Gone.

Sarah, dear Sarah, come home to me now.
You're supper's been ready since one.
I've swept and I've dusted, I've polished the stove.

And now all the dishes are done.
—The Song of Ostias.
If Sarah Lieberman will come home to her husband Ostias and withdraw her suit for separation, to be heard to-day, the latter herewith agrees always to cook her supper, wash the dishes, make the beds and perform such other household duties as the said Sarah will devise.

Ostias, a meek, patient little man, was till recently was a prosperous east side merchant, but who claims to have lost his money and his wife at the same time, made these statements in the office of his attorney, Isadore Scherer, at No. 62 Park Row, yesterday.

On March 24 Justice Hendricks decided that Sarah, who is suing Ostias for separation, was not entitled to temporary alimony of $10 a week and a counsel fee of $100 for the meek little defendant in the case had told a startling tale of being compelled by his wife to cook her supper when she returned home at 1 A. M., wash dishes, make beds—in fact, perform all the household duties that fall usually to the wife.

Then Ostias considered himself aggrieved. Now, after three weeks of loneliness, he is signing to have Sarah back on any terms.

Will Cook Her Meals.
"Why not?" he said yesterday when asked if he would really be willing to go back to his broom, dishtowel, &c.

"Why not?" My wife is the most beautiful woman on the east side.
Why should I not cook her supper and save her all the trouble I can? She doesn't like to work, and I don't mind anything. You see, I love that woman.
We both came from Austria—her family before mine. When I arrived I met her again. I loved her. She sent a marriage broker to see me. He said she was a good girl, and I should marry her. I agreed and we were married and lived happily for six years.

She Objected to Work.
"Yes, I cooked and washed the dishes for her. Why not?" She didn't like to do it. And I can cook much better than she can. When I was too busy I hired a woman to do the work for me. My wife would never do it. She would go to her parents or to the theatre.

"In one thing she was unreasonable.
If I didn't wash the dishes after supper she would get mad. Sometimes I would want to let them go till the next day, for I would be tired. But she would not permit it."

"We were perfectly happy for six years. I gave her $25 a week for the house and about $200 a year for clothes."

Left Him Three Times.
"Then she left me. But I bought her a watch and chain and she came back.
She stayed three months and went away again. Then I bought her some earrings and we were happy once more."

"But now she is gone a third time. I have no money, and she says she will never come back. But I hope she will change her mind. She is a fine woman.
I love her."

Sarah is twenty-eight. Ostias twenty-seven. The former's suit for separation will be called to-day.

The Coward Shoe

Foot Strain Relieved

Those sharp stabbing twinges through the waist of the foot are caused, in nine cases out of every ten, by strained ligaments in the arch of the foot.

Wearing the Coward Arch Prop Shoes gives needed support to the weakened ligaments, and gradually restores the arch to its natural position, when all the discomfort is entirely relieved.

The Coward Arch Prop Shoe is a certain preventive and remedy for both "fallen arch" and "flatfoot."

"I want to make known to all the readers of 'The World' a kind of a prominent society lady yesterday, a formula for reducing fat which I think is simply wonderful. I have no object in making this known save to help other fat people like myself who have tried almost everything advertised unof my fat friends are using it with won-have to exercise."

original package and then have the druggist put the following in a six-ounce bottle: One-half ounce fluid extract of Buckhorn Bark and five ounces of Simple Syrup.
When you get home you can add the Lex-onia."

"I was told to be sure to get the Lex-onia in the original package with the seal unbroken. I found full directions for mixing and taking inside the package. This remedy never takes on more than

O'CONNOR SENT TO JAIL FOR 15 MONTHS

Sentence Suspended on His Wife, Also Found Guilty of Using Mails to Defraud.

Thomas O'Connor and his wife, Frances O'Connor, indicted under the name of Frances Melvin, were found guilty in a sealed verdict opened before Judge Holt in the Criminal Branch of the United States Circuit Court today on two counts of an indictment charging them with using the mails to defraud.

Judge Holt sentenced O'Connor to fifteen months in Clinton Prison, at Danvers, and suspended sentence on the woman.

The pair have been on trial several days, their attorney, Hugh Gordon Miller, making a hard fight for their acquittal. Witnesses from several States testified that they had fallen victims to the schemes of the O'Connors. There were eleven counts in the indictments, but nine were ignored by the jury.

When the verdict was announced Layter Miller asked for a mild sentence for O'Connor and a suspension of sentence for O'Connor's wife, declaring that the woman, according to the Federal law, is under the domination of the husband and therefore could not be legally punished for her acts.

Assistant United States District Attorney Bird, who has prosecuted the case, urged the court to inflict a severe sentence on O'Connor and signified his willingness to waive the jury's recommendation for mercy for the woman daily considered.

Judge Holt, in suspending sentence of Mrs. O'Connor, told her that she was free to go, but that if she engaged again in schemes similar to those of which she had been found guilty, she would be sent to prison without delay.

Mrs. O'Connor kept while her husband was being sentenced.

The Perfect Woman Is Not a Fat One.

Artists say the ideal proportion of weight in a woman is 26 pounds for every foot of her height. This would make a woman of 5 feet 4 inches weigh 136 pounds 8 ounces.

If you weigh more than this in proportion you are on the danger line and are likely to get too fat in a few years. Check it by taking a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime of this recipe: 3 ounce Marmol, 3 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aramatic and 34 ounce Syrup Simplex. Get the Marmol sealed and mix it with the other ingredients at home. This mixture is harmless, will not cause wrinkles, and has been known to take off seven pounds of fat a week without any help from exercise or dieting. It is inexpensive.

The Wonderful Display of New Summer Cotton Dress Goods

"What do customers say about it?" we asked of some of the men in our Dress Goods Store. "Nothing like it in New York," said one. "A larger and more beautiful assortment than in any store we've seen," quoted another. And so it went, until we had to believe that the collection is exceptional. It is beautiful, no doubt—rich in the new things, the exclusive things, the charming designs, as well as the great army of staple cottons that make the majority of the practical dresses, and children's frocks, and everyday shirt-waists.

There are, for instance, the new Cotton Bordures—border patterns of a grace and distinction you've never seen before in cotton fabrics. No end of the designs and colorings in these. America is proud to claim them. Then, the delightful Swiss muslins—in dainty sprigs, and stripes, and allover designs woven in ombre colors on white and colored grounds—one thinks of the exquisite Summer dresses they'll make for lawn parties and other Summer functions. The organdies, too, blossom out into new flowered effects, with cluster corded and plaid backgrounds in white. The favorite shade primrose appears frequently in these dainty fabrics. Then there are the soft and sheer silk-and-cotton fabrics, the various pongee-like combinations of silk-and-cotton, that will make strikingly handsome suits, the galateas in smart new patterns, the linen suitings—but the list is endless.

France, Switzerland, Scotland—we almost forgot the Anderson ginghams, in many new patterns—England, Ireland, America—it is an international competition, with honors easy. Come and see the showing.

Some Exceptional News Of Women's Suits

It's by no means accidental, though—good things don't come our way, or anybody else's, without conscious effort.
Here are three fine groups of Tailored Suits, in the newest, prettiest Spring styles, that we have just received from their makers, but planned for long before Easter. Prices are popular, and don't begin to represent value—it's the usual story of surplus cloth which was bought to put into much higher-priced suits:

$16.75—A special lot of Tailored Suits of fine Panama cloths, in plain colors, black and blue mohair, and a few broadcloths. Well tailored, semi-fitting coats, double-breasted, satin-lined, some with contrasting collars of pongee silk. Gored, side-plaited skirts, with bias fold.

$16.50—Suits of fine chiffon Panama, with dressy, semi-fitting coat, seams trimmed with fancy braid; three-quarter length sleeves, with turned back silk cuffs; lined with striped taffeta silk. Gored, side-plaited skirts.

$8.50—A special offering of sixty-five suits of handsome striped suitings. Coats are short and tight-fitting, buttoned through, with shoulder and sleeve in one piece, and satin-lined. Gored, flare skirts, with bias fold. Beautifully tailored suits at an extraordinarily low price—$8.50.

And other special groups, presenting the same comparative price-savings, at $22, $25 and $27.50. Third floor, Old Building.
